

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

October 15, 2005

AHR Communications announces Community Partners Program

(Virginia Beach, VA) AHR Communications, Inc., owner of Admobile® Hampton Roads, has announced its new Community Partners Program. Admobile Hampton Roads is a locally owned and operated affiliate of Admobile, Inc., a global mobile media network.

Elaine Cayton, president, made the announcement today by saying "we take pride in the Hampton Roads community and choose to support local community initiatives that contribute to a positive quality of life for our employees, customers, and other citizens." In explaining the program, Ms. Cayton said, "we have a substantial investment in our fleet of vehicles. The vehicles are unique, which allows us to provide unique services to charitable and other non-profit organizations. We are delighted when we can help "get the word out" by advertising for our state and local non-profit organizations. Oftentimes, we also can provide courier services for charitable and other non-profit organizations, typically at no charge."

Ms. Cayton added, "we are careful about the advertisements we place on our vehicles. We follow strict guidelines regarding acceptable messages to ensure they meet community standards. We will not display a message that we feel may not be suitable for viewing by our citizens, and particularly our youth."

The company encourages community organizations to contact them with opportunities where they can support local community programs and needs.

Main office: (757) 321-8034.

AHR Communications, Inc., Hampton Roads, Virginia is a provider of Admobile mobile advertising, public service and emergency management communications, advertising campaign consultation, graphic design and production, and courier services for commercial and public service organizations.

Admobile® and the distinctive Admobile logo are registered trademarks of Admobile, Inc. All rights reserved.